Band To Perform Before Homecoming Hundreds

"Meet the old grads in top notch form," is the enthused cry of the Cal Poly band as they are preparing for the 1940 Cal Poly homecoming celebration.

Since this will be first daylight appearance for this organization many spectators will find the band in specially fresh green and gold military uniforms. This special preparedness will also make possible the annual photographing of this band for the Cal Poly year-book which is scheduled on that day.

The Cal Poly band will use many new stunts and marching formations during the half time period.

This group of musicians has received many compliments on its fine marching and playing ability. At the Aggie game, however, the band will do more playing on the field. According to reports the new "Yea Poly" song seemed to have worked very well especially after touchdowns. Such a realization was especially noted at the last Cal Poly game at which many touchdowns were made.

More songs with more enthusiasm from the Cal Poly rooters was suggested by Director Davidson as he stated: "It is hoped that the rooting section will really learn or bring the words of the following songs with them to the game: 'Send Out a Cheer,' 'Yea Poly,' and 'On Mustang.' We must show the old grads that we really know our school songs and that we have as much spirit as they."

Due to many requests the Cal Poly Glee club will appear for the first time at an assembly in the near future. They will feature several a Capella songs as well as one very interesting Russian Chant, "Hospodi Pomiloi." Also included will be two choice little ditties, one of which will be, "Livery Stable Blues." According to Director Davidson the two quartets from Collegiate and Glee Clubs are coming along well. The members of the Varsity are: Bill Hill, Rex Bowlby, Walter Dougherty and Joel Cohen; and of the Collegiate: Bill Struckmeyer, John Neocleides, Bob Raybourn and Takeshi Kabata.

The Varsity quartet has already made one appearance at the Sears, Roebuck banquet. Reginald Brown is the accompanist of the club and quartets.

Radio Series Scheduled On Station KVEC

A series of weekly radio programs to be presented direct from the California Polytechnic campus is being planned for presentation by radio station KVEC in cooperation with the radio division of Cal Poly. The programs are to be in the form of panel discussions and are tentatively scheduled for the quarter hour between 1:45 and 2:00 p. m. every Thursday.

"These programs are being presented in an effort to publicize the type of work done in the classrooms by students at Poly," said Robert Kennedy, director of public relations at Poly. "It will be necessary to get the cooperation of every department of the school so that some time this year each division may be represented."

The first program planned is an orientation program and will consist of a panel discussion between senior students from Atascadero, Arroyo Grande, and San Luis Obispo high schools and Dean Charles E. Knott and Dean Walter C. Patchett, of the industrial and agricultural departments at Cal Poly, respectively. Instructor Paul Dougherty and Farm Foreman Lee Fletcher of the crops department will take part in the second program of the series on silage. The national defense students at Poly and their instructors will be called on in the third program according to tentative schedules set by Kennedy. Further programs have not yet been scheduled in order that later subjects may be chosen for timely interest.

The panel discussion method is being used, according to Kennedy who is making the arrangements and writing the first few scripts, because the extemporaneous type of program has recently achieved great popularity with radio audiences.

"It is almost impossible to compete with big time radio programs in the entertainment field," remarked Kennedy. "However, it is felt that weekly programs designed to educate listening audiences will, if carried out effectively, help promote the college."

Belief was expressed that the first draft for scripts of later programs in the series may be written by students in technical writing classes.

Radio To Be Given Away In Assembly Today

Charles Teach, superintendent of schools of San Luis Obispo, will speak at the assembly at 11:00 in the Air Conditioning auditorium today. Teach, who is also president of the Rotary Club, is known as one of the best speakers in this area. The subject of his speech will be "The Advancement of Education."

The Sears Roebuck scholarship fund will be explained by L. A. Barley, the manager of the local store. There will also be a drawing for a radio donated by the company for a door prize at the recent banquet given for the winners of the scholarships. The portable radio was won at the banquet by Walter Patchett, head of the agricultural department, but he has refused to accept it.

38 in Glee Club Prepare For Busy Season

By Walter L. Dougherty

"Now! I can't read a note." "Well, maybe so, but I don't think I'll have enough time for it." "Sure, I'd like to but I've got too many other things to do."

Such were some of the answers received when some of the students were asked if they intended to try out for Men's Glee club at the first of the year. Nevertheless a lot of those fellows tried out anyhow and a number of them are in the Glee club now. None of them regret it, even if it does take some extra time.

In the Men's Glee club this quarter there are 38 students. They are a mixture of all the departments in the school.

Some are old students and some are new. They all like to sing and are there to do just that. Under the capable supervision and direction of Director H. P. Davidson they are whipping into shape a repertoire of songs which they will present later on.

Next spring the Glee club will go on a tour through the Sacramento valley. This annual tour is one which is looked forward to by every member of the Glee club.

We also have a band in our music department and it is a crackerjack outfit. Everyone who has seen the band perform will agree that they are okay. Those band boys work hard to provide good musical entertainment and lots of pep to all the games, rallies, assemblies, etc.

Everyone who has attended the school dances this year has danced to the music of the Cal Poly Collegiate orchestra. If you haven't heard this outfit yet, then you've missed something. Last year's orchestra was tops and so is this year's. Becoming better and better with each performance, they will soon be the best dance orchestra for quite a few miles around.

There are also two quartets. The Varsity quartet and the Collegiate quartet. The former foursome has one appearance to its credit already. They sang at the Sears, Roebuck and Co. scholarship banquet Thursday evening, October 24. The Collegiate quartet is composed of all new members as compared with only one new member in the Varsity quartet. This gives a decided advantage to the latter. The Collegiate are coming along in fine shape, though, and promise to give the Varsity foursome some competition in the future.

Lastly we come to the fellow who directs these student music activities. That is Director H. P. Davidson. Teacher, composer, arranger, director, and jolly fine fellow is he. He is author and composer of the songs "All Hail Green and Gold," "Send Out a Cheer," "On Mustangs," to mention a few. He has arranged many music scores for the Glee club, orchestra, band, and quartets. He knows his music and how to interpret and direct it. Through his knowledge he strives to teach and direct students in their quest for music ability and appreciation. His right hand man, Reg Brown, is his capable and faithful piano accompanist for glee club and quartets, and is also orchestra pianist.

All these persons are interested in music for some particular reason. Beneath these individual reasons is a basic liking for music in some form or other. Everyone should have some musical education in order that they may better appreciate it. College students more than any other group have this opportunity. Music is a common denominator among all peoples and he who knows something of its constituents will be a happier and better person for it.

Meat Animal Majors Cop Awards In Show At L.A.

Combining showmanship with well fattened and fitted animals, Cal Poly's meat animals students captured most of the major awards at the Great Western Livestock show.

The most prized award of the show went to Bud Davis who won the grand championship with his pen of lambs and individual Southdown-Hampshire crossbred lambs. This is the second time Davis has won the grand championship with Cal Poly lambs. His prize lamb sold for one dollar a pound. This is a great deal lower than last year, when the grand champion sold for $2.50 per pound.

Leo Rogers exhibited the carload of lambs of mixed breeding that were judged as champions of their class. In the Southdown division Gilbert Trillius and Vincent Trozera won second, third, and fourth pens of three. Trillius was also awarded the fourth prize individual Southdown lamb.

Bob Bogner exhibited Hampshire lambs and had third prize individual lamb and pen of three. Wilbur Davis, William Verdugo, and Tony Gomez showed first, second, and third prize pens respectively. Davis also had the first and third prize individuals.

1150-1350 pounds—Joe Munneke. Reserve champion—John Greenleaf. Shorthorn results: 750-875 pounds—1st, Elmer Ebersole; 2nd, Harrel Fletcher. 875-1000 pounds—1st, Dick Charlton; 2nd and 3rd, Dale Shackelford. 1000-1150 pounds—1st, Robert Haug; 2nd, Charles Crane. 1150-1350 pounds—Gordon Moore. Champion—Gordon Moore. Reserve champion—Dick Charlton.

In the lightweight Duroc-Jersey fat barrow class Jerry Didier won 1st, 2nd, and 3rd prize money. He also exhibited the first prize pen of three fat hogs weighing from 170-200 pounds.

Sigma Phi Kappa Hold Initiation In County Park

The Sigma Phi Kappa initiation held Sunday, Oct. 20, at the county park was a total success. The old members heartily enjoyed themselves as they dished out a hot time to the initiates, who, nevertheless, took the final oath given by President Kurt Ullman in the best of form.

At the last meeting Mr. Bushnell, the San Luis Obispo Scout Executive, told the fraternity of the possibilities of affiliation with the Scouts, which as yet remains undecided. It was decided, however, that a banquet will be held at the Gold Dragon in the near future to better acquaint the new and old members.

Wedding of Charles Ball Celebrated By Los Lecheros

The recent marriage of Charles C. Ball, herdsman of the Cal Poly dairy, to Miriam Bettina Enos, of this city, was celebrated Tuesday night by members of Los Lecheros and interested Cal Poly students in a reception held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Drumm.

The party was a surprise to the bride and groom. The young couple had been invited to a dinner at the Drumm residence. Mr. and Mrs. Ball thought Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boone were the only other invited guests. When it came time for the desert to be served, Los Lecheros arrived and offered their best wishes for a successful marriage to the newly weds. As an aid to starting housekeeping they were given an aluminum cooking set by Los Lecheros.

Following the Cal Poly-Sacramento Junior College football game Saturday night, there will be a dance in the S. J. C. men's gymnasium. Admission will be twenty-five cents. One of Sacramento's most popular dance orchestras will play.

Modestan Speaks To Poultry Dept.

Thursday night the entire poultry department journeyed to Paso Robles to hear Horace Dryden, prominent poultry breeder, speak and show films of his poultry farm and some of his travels. Dryden, who is located at Modesto where the National Egg Laying contest is being held, has one of the finest poultry breeding farms on the Pacific coast. He is quite active in the poultry industry and well known throughout the country. The son of James Dryden, one of the country's most successful and prominent poultry research workers and breeders, Horace Dryden today carries on the work his father left him.

The poultry students greatly appreciated the opportunity to hear and meet Dryden. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed seeing his colored film and hearing what he had to say.

Wednesday night Richard Leach, Paul Winner, and Charles Hagemeister attended the annual local banquet of the Poultrymen's Cooperative Association of Southern California at Atascadero. The principal speakers were Mr. Ameling, general manager, and Mr. Cunningham, president of the board of directors. The same evening members of the poultry department were dining at the Young Farmers banquet in the Andrews Hotel, San Luis Obispo.

Blood testing for pullorum disease, one of the scourges of poultry, has begun at the poultry plant. This is an annual procedure by which birds infected with pullorum disease are detected and eliminated from the flocks. By this week end blood test samples are expected to be obtained and shipped to the Los Angeles research laboratories. Results on the first 300 samples have shown then all negative reactions and it is hoped that the rest will be the same.

PARDON MY FEET—THEY'RE JUST FROZEN

"Will you please thaw out that ink so I can write a letter home? I can't do it till I chop the ice off my feet."

"Sorry, friend, but my hands have been frozen to the bed since last night when the steam forgot to stay on. Say, where is that steam?"

Yes, where is that steam in the dorms when we need it most? Even if we arise late it's seldom that the steam is turned on before breakfast is almost over, and then it is time for class before the room is warm. At night, the conditions are a bit better except that regulation of the radiators is impossible. It's either a case of open the valve and roast or close the valve and freeze. Oh, for a happy medium!

It seems that if the steam were turned on at the time it should be and that the system were operated on the pressure it was designed for, much criticism could be avoided in the dormitories. After all studying in a room where the heating conditions are as bad as they are at present is almost impossible. 'Nough said!—The Editor.

DO IT NOW—RESOLUTIONS NEEDED

The first quarter of the year 1940 ends the 29th of this month. This means that there are only about three weeks left in which to complete the work of this quarter.

If we leave term reports, note books, lab. reports, and class work to the last minute, we do ourselves a great injustice. When things are left to the last minute to be done they are very seldom given the attention they deserve.

We firmly believe that every student at California Polytechnic should make an agreement with himself to do all the work that it is possible for him to do now and not wait to the last day to start.—Dave Carlin.

CALIFORNIA POLY vs. LA VERNE COLLEGE

The California Polytechnic is composed of two branches in central and southern California and are separated by about 200 miles. Now the question is this, is it right that one branch of this college should be blamed for the adolescent actions of the other? This seems to be what happened in the case of La Verne College vs. Cal Poly.

Three weeks ago when Poly played the La Verne college in Southern California our unit in San Dimas decided to build up a little pre-game spirit by burning up the lawns, tearing up the goal posts, and raising hell in general with the La Verne campus. These are the kind of tricks that we are told are supposed to have been forgotten by the time we have completed prep school.

The La Verne student paper came out blasting California Poly for our detrimental conduct and for the game in general. The columnist of "Between These Walls" saw fit to conclude his article on Poly by "so to heck with Cal Poly and to heck with the score." We at the San Luis Obispo unit are not only condemned for the damage done on the La Verne campus but for winning the game as well.

Let any school understand that the personnel and student body government of the two units are entirely different. We, at San Luis Obispo are not in the least responsible for the actions of the San Dimas unit.—The Editor.

UNITY NEEDED NOW AFTER ELECTION

Now that the nation has re-elected Franklin D. Roosevelt as its president it is the duty of the nation's citizens to forget their party differences and to work together for national unity.

The election is over now and there is no place for disunity if we are to present a strong front to the world. The motto of Hitler st divide and rule. Let us take heed and not let class hatred, sectional differences, or party loyalty prevent us all from getting our shoulders to the wheel and pushing together in the best fashion we can to solve the perplexing problems that face our nation today. Only by working together can we save democracy.—Dave Carlin.

What D'ya Shea

By Johnnie Shea

Style in clothing is of great importance nowadays to all young men. A knowledge of the different kinds of wearing apparel and the proper ways of dress goes a long way to making an impression that is a credit to one's self.

In perusing last month's Esquire magazine, it was vividly brought to my attention that Poly students are not the "world's best dressed gentlemen." So to associate those fellows, who do like to dress, with what is now in vogue, I'd like to express what I believe is tops, in up-to-date men's clothing.

For those smart town outfits there are several to choose from. A stylish combination is a dark-gray worsted suit with a faint overplaid, a red and blue Maclesfield tie, a blue striped broadcloth shirt, gray and wine-colored wool socks and dark-brown wing tip-shoes. Another outfit of equally exotic appearance is a brown worsted suit, pale greenish striped shirt, copper colored herringbone pattern tie and again the dark-brown wing-tip shoes.

For practical evening shoe wear, say to the week-end Poly dances and the occasional shows, a brown calf wing-tip pattern with perforated design is very good. The same style also comes in black. A shoe designed for university and outdoor wear is a brown colored, reverse calf Gummy, with moccasin tip and a thick crepe rubber sole. Hose used is either brown fancy ribbed wool or green and rust colored large diamond pattern wool.

A well balanced sport outfit is a gray cheviot suit, brown shoes, a top coat of a bluish diagonal tweed and a matching hat of rough textured felt. The new "slant" on hats is brought out by Stetson. It is a wholly new hat shape . . . the crown blocked higher on one side than the other so that a bias dent comes natural. Ask your clothier for the "Slant."

In rainwear there are several different makes and styles of raincoats. Among the many is one of processed worsted gabardine. It has raglan shoulders, slash pockets and buttons and tabs on the sleeves. An all-around belt adds to the military effect of the double breasted front. With all the tinkering with waterproof fabrics, the experts have finally developed methods of making the different cloths virtually impervious to the elements, even a trip to the cleaners won't affect the coats.

Sport wear in sweaters is also a very important factor in good dress. One is a crew neck pull-over, coming in many different shades in a pure wool Shetland Blend in a jacquard stitch, which gives the sweater the feel of higher priced sweaters. A jacket sweater of fine pure wool, warm but light, is also very good. This jacket comes in many different colors and can be had in the sleeveless pull-over if preferred.

This column is designed primarily to give the male reader up to the minute information on new styles for all kinds of wear. Any particular question or suggestion about items mentioned in the column will be answered through the column just by dropping a line to the WHAT D'YA SHEA editor in care of the paper.

Flying Club To Be Organized At College

With notices posted for a proposed flying club, students of Cal Poly having pilot's licenses will be able to keep up their flying time at a much less cost than usual.

Any student possessing a student pilot's license or a private pilot's certificate is eligible to participate. The flight operators at the local airport have indicated that they will extend special reduced rates to a club of this kind. The rates will depend on the number of flyers and the hours of flying per month that the club can assure them.

Flyers signed up so far are as follows: Bill Hargis, Wayne Long, Scott Rodgers, Clara King, Kenneth Holmes, John O'Brien, Hugh Long, Mills Bale, Bruce Broemser, Roy Brophy, Ralph Hanks, Ray Tuominen, Bill Wamel, Claude Polk, Hal Greinetz, and Donald Skinner. Any flyers outside of Cal Poly are also invited to take advantage of this opportunity.

The Air Conditioning department has converted an old ice box into a modern refrigerator for the poultry department. This refrigerator is especially designed for cooling dressed and drawn poultry. It is to be equipped with a new electric unit and is hoped to be installed in the butchering room soon.

Hubby: "What are we having for dessert tonight, dear?"

Boos And Bouquets

JUST WHY WOULDN'T it be possible to contract a school dentist in the same way we do the school physicians Butler and Butler? Of course it would be impossible to obtain complete tooth insurance for the year from any dentist for a rate we could afford to pay but at least we could have some sort of an arrangement whereby our teeth could be taken care of at a reduced mass rate.

Perhaps this cost of about five to ten dollars would cover a semi-yearly dental examination and cleaning job in addition to regular dental work at reduced rates. A dentist could afford to do this if he was certain of a large amount of business as Poly would bring him.

WE HAVE BEEN having a little trouble with circulation since we adopted the system of delivering papers to the dorms. It seems that some of the students "just can't find them"—never going into the lounge where the signs direct them. Many students of the campus would probably never get their paper if it weren't for the ones put in El Corral.

From this issue on we will retrace back to our old system of placing sheets in the cafe and hope no one will be left out. The papers for off campus students will be in the Corral, faculty papers will be mailed out, and the office force can trip downstairs for theirs.

LAST YEAR SOMEONE had the brilliant idea of giving a Poly Follies or Poly stage show. That idea in our estimation was indeed a swell one but it seems that the idea was abandoned when there was not enough interest shown amongst the students here at Poly.

Poly Royal is the only show at present that we have and that is merely to demonstrate what we have done and learned during the year. What we need now is some sort of a show whereby the students can prove that they can play as well as work. Poly-men may be just a bunch of hicks with no talent but somehow we don't think so. Just show us one college on the coast that does not have some sort of a theatrical production at least annually and we will show you fifty that do.

Next time such an idea comes about give it your support and help it to hatch out.

More or Less

By Les Vanoncini

This little corner is going to have to improve or else move out and let the want ad section take its place, as we seem to be getting into deeper water with every edition.

With basketball season but two weeks off we should give them a little plug. Every night at the gym we find Mal Woolcott, Howard Picton, Gill Trillius and our man Pereira tossing the casaca around getting their eye for the coming season. Incidentally we find that the schedule for the coming season to be one of the toughest any has ever had. Games so far scheduled include Santa Barbara State College, and the highly touted traveling squad from Humboldt State. The barn storming teams will again be scheduled and are quite capable of giving the crowds a real treat. Other college teams are asking for games and if the conditions are right we will see some real action this season.

With only a few veterans returning from last year's squad leaves many positions wide open to be filled by freshmen and transfers. The indication for new material looks quite promising for the Mustangs to have one of their best squads.

If Pat Smith had the line in front of him that Frankie Albert has, we would hate to think what would happen. Pat is by far the best runner ever seen around these parts, even though he has to clear most of the path himself. He can pass as accurately as anyone on the squad and can call plays with as masterful a hand as Coach De Rosa. Yes, Pat can kick. The other night in practice his punts were all traveling around 55 yards down field and that far upward. A real triple threat man this fellow from Arizona, and he will be called to do a lot when the Aggies come to town.

The Mustang ends played a great game last week against the Chico team and showed that these spots are pretty well taken care of. Hazard and Meyers were in on almost every play and gave Freitas a bad time.

"Lumberin' Len" Canovan was injured in the first half of the Chico game but refused to be taken out. Taken to the hospital after the game he was treated by the doc for a badly wrenched knee and may not be in the lineup for the game at Sacramento tonight.

We will not bring in comparative scores again but we just can't leave this one out. From our angle we see that Cal Poly is given a nine point margin over the College of Pacific. The Staggs men defeated the Cal Aggies last week by the score of 7-6. As I said before this is not an indication that the Mustangs will beat the Aggies but shows that on paper they are on a par basis. What a game that will turn out to be.

Fred Kobayashi Takes Central Area Judo Championship

Fred Kobayashi of the Lower Units won the Central California Judo tournament which was held recently at Arroyo Grande. Fred received a large trophy for his accomplishment which was given by the Japanese of that area. Three men were defeated by the talented young athlete of Cal Poly. Going into the ring handicapped by a severe cold, Fred threw his first man in five minutes, and went on from there to take his other opponents in record breaking time. Kobayashi has been practicing judo for the past year and has already thrown men that are rated two classes above his as was shown in this last tournament. Specialists from Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Lompoc, Arroyo Grande, Santa Maria, and Guadalupe took part in these matches.

There were three other students from Cal Poly entered in this tournament but were not quite as successful as Fred. Bill Kobayashi drew two draws in his matches of the lower division as did Terushi Narutoku. Yutoko Ito, also from the Lower Units, won his first match and then drew on his second.

These fellows train at Arroyo Grande twice a week and work out with Chuck Volz's weight lifting class to keep in shape. We have the assurance of these fellows that they will put on an exhibition match at our first fun night that will be held soon.

Staters Drop Game To Poly By 20-7 Count

Those fighting Mustangs lived up to their "never-say-die" reputation and came from behind to win a thrilling 20 to 7 victory over Chico State College. For the third consecutive week the Mustangs have come from behind to nip their opponents and go on to win the ball game. The Chico State boys started the ball rolling by scoring first in the initial period. Poly came back to tie the score in the third quarter and scored twice more in the last frame to win a decisive and well earned victory.

After a series of first downs the Chico State halfback threw a pass which netted them a first down on the Poly's five yard line. The Mustangs' line dug in to make a determined goal line stand but on fourth down Welch, Chico back, plunged over the guard for a touchdown. Favero kicked the conversion and they led 7 to 0.

After a few exchanges of punts the spectators were thrilled by Poly's fullback, Blanton, vicious tackle. Freitas swung wide around end with a blocker in front of him. The blocker went to block out Blanton and just as he did this Blanton dove over him and downed Freitas with a terrific tackle for a 8 yard loss. The half ended shortly after this and things looked gloomy for Poly as Chico was shoving them all over the field.

The second half showed a reversal of form on the Mustangs' part. Whatever Coach Howie O'Daniels tells them is a mystery to me but it sure fires up the football players to a fighting mood. With Lieb doing the ball carrying, they went for a first down. Then Warford took a reverse and went driving and spinning for another first down on the Chico 20 yard line. Poly's drive was stopped at this point as Lieb was smothered trying a fourth down pass. Chico threw a long pass but "Rambling" Woods intercepted it on the fifty and raced down to the ten yard line before being tackled. From this point on Poly went over to score with Lieb going the last two yards for the first score. Soroka split the uprights with the conversion and the third quarter ended with the score tied at 7 to 7.

Poly was now waging a determined battle and Nakunas broke through to throw Freitas for a 10 yard loss with a bruising tackle. It was beautiful to watch the Mustang line work. They were showing a terrific charge and were starting to shove the Chico forward line around. Chico was forced to kick. Radnich, after signaling for a fair catch, fumbled and a Chico man fell on the ball. Again Chico was forced to kick and the ball bounded over the goal line. Then after an exchange of punts, Platz intercepted a pass and was downed on the Poly 28 yard line. The ball was given to Pat "Twister" Smith on a reverse and he straight-armed and changed his pace to score standing up on a sensational 72 yard run. Soroka's attempted place kick went wide and Poly led for the first time by 13 to 7.

Again on a pass interception, this time by Anderson, the Polymen took over. It was Smith again who packed the ball as he swivel-hipped and outran the whole Chico team on a 28 yard dash for the final touchdown of the ball game. Soroka attempted the conversion and the ball hit the goal posts and bounded through for the extra point.

The rest of the quarter developed into a desperate passing offense by the Chico team. The Mustangs had them covered perfectly and intercepted most of their passes and Chico was never able to threaten the Mustangs' goal line again.

Nakunas, Canovan, Martinez and Hazard played a bang-up defensive game, spilling the Chico backs con-

Coach Clark Shaughnessy from Stanford tabs the Santa Clara Broncos as the best team he has faced this year. Although Buck Shaw appreciates this praise he still wants the underdog role for the coming clash with St. Mary's.

St. Mary's Marauding Morgans came home to a roaring welcome Monday night and a future which may possibly hold a bowl invitation.

By what I gather, Bill Ingram, former California and Navy coach, has a son planning to enroll at Stanford.

Minor Sports

By Vincent Trozera

...SWIMMING—Don DeRosa would like to have a swimming team from each of the dorms, namely, Chase, Deuel, Jespersen, Heron, Units DEF, Units ABC, and from the NYA camp. If all these dorms and the camp wish to enter teams, time trials will be held to eliminate those not qualified. De Rosa said, "I want an athletic manager from each dorm to turn in the names of swimmers. The student life-guard will be at the pool with a stop watch to help the managers time their swimmers."

Those off-campus students who wish to swim should hand their names into DeRosa as soon as possible and they will be prorated among the other dorm teams.

"Last year Chase hall had all the off-campus swimmers that made it unfair to the rest of the dorms," said DeRosa. He also said the first inter-dorm meet will probably be held in the vicinity of Nov. 19.

The Mustangs have finally hit their stride and are now practicing hard for the Sacramento J. C. game which will be played in Sacramento Nov. 9.

All Star Team Victor In Game With Merchants

The Cal Poly Mustang All-Star baseball team won their first ball game of the season last Sunday from the San Luis Merchants by the score of 9-8. The game was filled with many sloppy plays and errors prevalent from both teams. The highlight of the day came about in the fifth inning when a hit, error and a walk filled the bases with our associate sports editor coming to bat. Amaro Pereira took one of Roy Polletti's fast ones and drove it into deep center field for a home run, sending in three runs ahead of him. This tied the score at five all and from there on until the final frame it was a see-saw affair. Going into the first of the ninth saw the teams again tied at 8 all. The Merchants were held in check that inning by Pitcher Joe Soroka who retired the first three men in order. The Mustangs came to bat with Pereira getting life on a walk and then Stan Seaman came to the rescue and drove out a sharp single down the first base line that sent Pereira home with the winning run.

Swede Crawford and Joe Soroka held the visitors in check most of the time even though they allowed nine hits, four of them coming via the infield route.

Merle Hyde of the Merchants and Roy Polletti led the hitting for the Merchants getting three hits each. Charlie Cardova drove out a long home run for the visiting team. These two teams will play again soon.

Muscle Binders Start Heavy Drill Lessons

Chuck Volz and his muscle-binders have had two strenuous weeks with more than fifteen fellows in training.

The tendency for most of the fellows is to try to lift and press more than they should and this is liable to do them a great deal of harm, according to Coach Volz, who has been stressing the idea of taking it easy for a while and then later getting plenty of exertion when their bodies have become used to this type of training.

More equipment is now available to the class as an ardent supporter of this type of exercise from San Luis Obispo has donated his weights and other equipment to the class for use solely by them.

Sacramento J. C. Face Mustangs Saturday

In the last two games the California Poly Mustangs have showed so much improvement over their first few appearances that they will be favored to take the Sacramento J. C. into camp tonight. The game will be played at Sacramento under the arc lights of the northern city. Turning out to be one of the hardest hitting teams that the Mustangs have ever had they have shown that the game with the Gauchos from Santa Barbara was not a miraculous defeat and that they were able to keep the game as close as they did only because of their strength.

Second Half Team

It is a very noticeable thing that the Mustangs are not a first half team, and that it has taken them two periods to see what the defense and type of ball the opposing team has to offer. When this has been taken care of, there is nothing that can stop the powerful Poly team. Blocking, tackling, and the knowledge of their plays has stood out definitely in the last three games, something that was not so evident during the first part of the season. This by far does not mean that they are in mid-season form yet and will have to work a great deal harder if they expect to give the Aggies a battle next week. Of course that game must not be stressed as yet as the Mustangs have a game this week that is not any cinch. The J. C. is all primed for the Mustangs as they have nothing to lose and everything to win. They are looking forward to a victory over the local team which would give them a great deal more recognition than they have received in the last few games. The Sacramento team is studded with veterans from two years back with a backfield that can pass and kick their way out of most any predicament, the line has not shown up as well as expected and if they do live up to their expectations in the game there is no doubt that they will give the Poly backfield plenty of trouble.

From the Mustangs' side of the picture, we see an entirely different picture in that they realize a tough game is ahead of them and do not aim to make any mistakes that will enable the Sacramento J. C. to gain the advantage. The Poly team is sparked up over the rumor of a post season game a great distance from here and will not allow any team to do anything that will harm this possibility.

Sacramento Game Tough

The backfield with Pat Smith in charge is ready to run the sox off of the Northern boys. In the last game with the Chico aggregation the backfield showed that they were something more than ball carriers in that their blocking was well timed and rehearsed. The backfield had plenty of time in starting their plays and also found that the blocking by the team as a whole turned a possible defeat into victory. Pat Smith and Brad Lynn are expected to carry the blunt of the attack for the Mustangs tonight with plenty of reserve power handy if something comes up to hamper their chances.

The Mustangs still continue their tackling, blocking, and pass plays practice as in the past week's work-out. The Chico State coach praised the Mustangs for being the best conditioned team he has seen all year stating that he had scouted the San Francisco game the previous week and particularly noticed the number of men that played almost 60 minutes of ball. To top it all off, they came back the following week and repeated the same performance. From the conditioning method followed by the Mustang advisory department we can well see how this can be the truth.

Pereirodiction

By Pereira

Southern Cal to smear Cal by two touchdowns.

UCLA to take Oregon by 7 points. Washington State to upset Oregon State.

Stanford over Washington by one touchdown in the game of the week. Cal Poly over Sacramento J. C. in a close affair.

Tennessee to win over Southwest-ern.

Texas A. & M. over S. M. U. Oklahoma over Kansas.

You may not know it, boys, but that Hawaiian lover, Stan Raymond, is the Casanova of Cal Poly. From what I gather, it is the voice that gets the gals. If you want to keep your gals, boys, keep them away from the orchestra stand.

Yours truly would like to know if this column's favorite subject worked himself into a dinner date for Thanksgiving from Laverne Alderman at the last dance. How do you rate, prexy? We would not be surprised to see Dave Plant move to Texas after the sample he had last Saturday night. Congratulations, Dave, especially for beating Vanonini to the draw.

I have seen and heard of a lot of things happening at dances but putting a monkey bite on a gal's cheek tops them all. That man among men, Warford, was seen trying to plant a bite on a certain gal's cheek, or was it a kiss? Some fun, eh, Warford!

Handsome Phil York had visitors from his home town, Austin Corners, last week. It looks like they are all good-looking from that neck of the woods. Was that an engagement ring on her finger, Phil?

Who is the mysterious "Margie," that Jim Polk, Boogie boy, is writing to? We wonder if she actually looks like Margie.

Scoop—Who was the cutie Hank Warren had the last dance with and also escorted home? Well, I won't tell but the initials are Pat Pitts. Gee! What a babe!

With 236 students working here last month, a grand total of 1587 hours and $4761.19 have been recorded.

The state payroll included 147 students and $2356.70. The school NYA payroll, not including the resident project, totaled $552.03 for 53 students. On the project fund for September were 36 students drawing a total of $1852.46. These figures do not include cafeteria workers or any non-student employees.

Boxing Club Wanted Here At Polytech

It seems too bad to see so much boxing material go to waste around the school with very little action done about it. Cal Poly has always had lots of boxing material but that is as far as it has gone. The Block P society the past five years has taken care of this sport but are unable to do it this year because of certain regulations and consequently nothing is being done to revive this sport.

If the students want to form a boxing club they should see Capt. Deuel and try to arrange a time and see if it is not possible to work up a team or even have a fun night in the near future. There are many state colleges that have boxing teams that would be glad to have matches with us. By holding boxing contests it is possible to make enough money to buy a little more adequate equipment. The boxers should try and get a response from this plan and start training as the boxing crowds are more responsive in the winter months.

The freshman crop shows a number of fellows that can hold their own in any league. From Washington there is Cy Perkins who was the amateur champ of his division for the State of Washington and right behind him was "Lumberin'" Len Canovan, holder of many wins from the same region. In the lighter class there is Gene De Ment, 150 pound dynamo from Oregon, another holder of many wins in his class, having fought against collegiate boxers when he was only a high school student. Then we come to our own material from last year with Bob Ryan, Carl Miller, Joe Marshall, Dave Risling and Tommy Shirakawa leading the list. All of these fellows can give anybody a bad time.

San Luis Camp Makes Ready For 20,000 Troops

A number of important changes have been made in the construction of Camp San Luis Obispo. Facilities for 20,000 National Guardsmen and conscription troops will be built before the first of January when the troops are scheduled to report.

The work to date has been confined to cleaning the mountainous 11,000 acre tract. A recent revisal of plans will decentralize the housing of the troops, placing them in joint units adjacent to the main camp.

A block purchase of the 11,000 acre tract will make the construction of costly water and drainage projects unnecessary and will, in time, save the United States from $1,000,000 to $2,500,000 in grading and improvements that would have been a necessity otherwise.

Major Lloyd F. Stanley, construction quartermaster at the camp, stated that the $800,000 hospital now under construction would not be affected by the recent changes.

Governor Olson has approved of only $170,000 of the $300,000 necessary to make the land purchases and this is holding up the work of the Army engineers in charge of the project. The $170,000 given by the state is part of the emergency fund.

Over 600 men, working three shifts, are employed by the L. E. Dixon Co., contractors, building the camp. Bus schedules have been arranged for commuters between San Luis Obispo and the camp.

The Upper Units of the American League defeated last year's champs, Chase Hall, to the tune of 14-1. DEF was defeated by the NYA unit by a score of 30-6. It looks like the banner is going to find itself in the possession of the NYA when this season is over. Heron Hall defeated Deuel Dorm by 14 points. The score was 19-5. In the National League Chase Hall lost to Jespersen Dorm by a score of 27-15.

Cal Poly Given Hereford Bull By Fresnan

Praising the California Polytechnic meat animals students for their skill and ability in fitting and showing fat livestock at the Great Western Livestock show in Los Angeles last week, C. B. Quinn, Fresno hardware and implement dealer and owner of the C B Q ranch, donated a purebred bull calf to the college's Hereford herd.

Quinn bid $310 for the bull calf at auction during the Great Western show, and immediately after purchasing the animal he presented it to representatives of the college.

"Cal Poly meat animal students are doing a fine job in the interests of livestock improvement and they deserve recognition for their success," Quinn said in making the presentation. Cal Poly students captured most of the major awards at the Great Western Livestock show.

"We are thankful to Mr. Quinn for his gift and are happy to be able to add this well bred Hereford to our foundation herd," said Lyman Ben-nion, head of the meat animals department at Cal Poly.

The bull, Royal Advance Domino, was calved September 30, 1939. His sire, Royal Domino V, sold recently at the Carrey Dispersal sale for $4000. He was bred by De Berrard of Colorado. The dam is Miss Advance Domino 40th.

Don Addis New President Of Deuel Dorm Association

Don Addis, vice-president of Deuel dorm, was made president of the association when Ray Schwab the former prexy moved downtown because of a job. At the same meeting in which the election took place Charles Solomon was elected to the vice-presidency by a unanimous vote.

The main topic of discussion at the meeting was the plans for the annual open house night party which is to be set at a later date. The idea of the whole thing is to open the dorm to persons who would not otherwise have the opportunity to see the interior of a boys' dorm. Activities planned are dancing, games, and the usual refreshments.

Hubby: "What are we having for dessert tonight, dear?"
